"JIMMY" ROWAN'S VICTORY,

He Had No Transle in Reeping Burge "Off the Grass."

The fistic battle between "Jimmy" Rowan, of this city, and "Jim" Burge, the Australian, who, by the way, is not at all an Australian now, teok place sunday evening in an out-of-door ring four miles above Sisterswille. Burge was utterly unable to put out Rowan in the stipulated ten rounds, and at the conclusion Rowan was awarded the fight and the purre of $200. Rowan showed considerable skill and surprised his friends by his elevenoss.

The boot was started up the river shortly after the light, but was laid up the Australian, who, by the way, is not at Sardis on account of a break in the machinery. Shortly after this the coal supply ngain gave out, and more miners—non-union ones—had to be employed to dig a fresh supply from one of the river banks.

During the morning the boat arrived at New Martinsville, where the fighters and a majority of the "aports" left her and took to the Ohio River train. The boat continued on up the river, and at 6 o'clock her whistle was sounded for Wheeling, just forty-two hours after 6 o'clock her whistle was sounded for Wheeling, just forty-two hours after she had left for the battle. And maybe the twenty sports who remained were not a disgusted and worn out lot of search.

Burge left yesterday afternoon for Finloyville, Pa., where he is employed as a coal miner.

Declared a Draw

Last night at a half on Washington street, Martin's Ferry, the sparring match for points between Charles Miller and Charles Och, took place before a fair sized crowd of "aports." It only lasted one round and was declared a draw. The same works draw. The same men may meet for a limited round "go" within a short time.

OF INTEREST TO WHEELMEN.

Chairman Raymond Makes Known Sov-eral Important Decisions.

ESTERDAY Chairman Raymond, of the national racing board of the League of American Wheelmen, handed down a number of important de-cisions regard-ing suspended wheelmen, racing suspended wheelmen, racing colors and New York Herald. Mr. Raymond stated that he wants to correct a misunder-standing in regard to the character for prizes in class A ovents. He savs general merchandise cannot be offered in such competitions. The rade reads: "Medats, diplomas, plate, jewelry and cycle sundries." This permits, he says, medals of all kinds, all articles of silverware, every doscription of jewelry and anything pertaining to cycling. No one article to exceed $50 in value. He warms race promoters not to violate this rule. Mr. Raymond says regarding the misunderstanding as to which class of riders are expected to register colors that the colors provision extends to both classes. Whether a cyclist intends to ride in class A or class B, the registering of colors is a proper act and has nothing to do with which class a man intends to competo in.

As the League of American Wheelmen has decided not to assume jurisdiction over road racing the Century Road Club of America will look after that class of sport in the future. Claims for records will therefore have to be made to the Century Road Club, at Chicago.

Interest in the Intelligences: Decoration Day road race is becoming red hot, and it is probable that there will be thirty-five starters, when the pistol shot sends off the limit man on his scorch of fifteen miles to Triadelphia and return. Every evening the pike is covered with wheelmen who are in netive training for the bly road event of the senson. Both the Mahke boys are riding in fine form, so are Stamp and Riheldaffer. This quartette of riders formed the favorites in last season's race, and they will likely go to the post favorites this time.

Speculation as to the time that will be made is rife, and predictions of over sixty minutes will be away off. Last year the distance was made in less than an hour, and with the lighter machines of '04, a cut in the time is certain. The lighter machines, however, will probably cause more break-downs than before. Interest in the INTELLIGENCER Decor-

Yesterday two representatives of the Pittsburgh Press came to town on their wheels, having gone over the route of the Wheeling-Pittsburgh read race, which is to take place June 2. They were R. J. Sample, one of the illustrators on the Press staff, and Mr. R. il. Schafer. Sample was armed with a detective camera and took about fifty views of spots along the route, including ten or twelve in Wheeling. The route out of the city for this race has not yet been decided, but will probably be from the McLure down Market to Seventeenth; on Seventeenth to the pike. Editor Keenan will be here next Sanday and will complete arrangements.

A Quarrel-Murder.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., May 13.—There was a big cocking main at Virginia Point, eight miles west of this place, Point, eight miles west of this place, yesterday, and birds from all the neighboring towns participated, Huntington fowls carrying off the honors. After the affair was over there was a terrible murder. Two men, Lower Priner and Ed. Lowry, got into a game of cards, when one accused the other of cheating, and a row eneued in which Lowry clubbed Priner over the head until the skull was smashed to a jelly. Priner, who was a loser, had grabbed up the money. Lowry tried to escape, but was pursued by the officers at Kenova and captured last evening. Both men were tough characters.

Sunday was the fifth annivereary day of the Epworth League of the M. E. charch. It was extremely well celebrated by the chapter here. At the morning service a most beautiful programme was rendered, consisting of songs, scriptural readings and prayers. Papers were read an the two great commandments: First, "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind," by Miss Ella Harris, who represented the spiritual department; second, "Thou shall love thy nelphor as thyself," by Lena McDaniols, representing the Merzy and Help department, and Mrs. Ada Carrick, the social department. The financial interests of the league were discussed in excellent style by Mr. John Bryson, after which the congregation contributed a large collection to theleague. The programme closed with a consecration service conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Grimes. In the ovening five-minute talks were given by several young men of the league and older members of the church on subjects suitable for the occasion. The clurch was very beautifully decorated with flowers, pine and mottoes.
